Summary: The Kena Upanishad is a collection of philosophical poems discussing the attributes of Brahman: the unchanging, infinite universal spirit. Brahman is further proposed as the cause for all the forces of nature, symbolized as Gods. This commentary by Shankara focuses on 'Advaita Vedanta', or non-dualism: one of the classical orthodox philosophies of Hinduism.

In the Kena Upanishad we live in this atmosphere, the going beyond the senses, the determined seeking for the Ātman, the eternal truth of all experience. Somewhere to experience it is hidden, and the search is on. The body and the sense-organs which common sense and some schools of philosophy take to be self-sufficient and final, are not so.
